DANCE AT THE COUNTRY CLUB.

The attendance at the dance given by the Country Club, like a majority of social functions for a month past, was affected by the prevailing dread of "catching more cold," but there were enough to make the evening enjoyable, for the cold weather made dancing particularly delightful.

In the dancing contingent were Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Thornton, Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Cary, Mrs. W. B. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Keyser, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Lamar, Dr. and Mrs. Walter Higgins, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Eitzen, Dr. and Mrs. Wilmer S. Hall, Mrs. Fred W. Marsh, Mrs. O'Leary, Mrs. Pearce, Mrs. Emily C. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. J. Campbell Avery, Jr., Miss Daisy Hyer, Miss Florence Turtle, Miss Allie Willis, Miss Dagmar Holmes, the Misses Sharpe, the Misses Smith, the Misses Pearl and Cora Lewis, of Valdosta, Ga., Miss Herring, of Brooklyn, N. Y., Mr. A. M. Avery, Jr., Messrs. Earl and Dudley Thornton, Mr. Buckner Chipley, Mr. J. Clark Porter, Mr. Walter Pitt, Mr. Douville, Mr. George Douville, Mr. Robert Denham.

IN COMPLIMENT TO MISS HUTCHINSON.

One of the enjoyable affairs of Wednesday was the small card party at which Miss Mattie McQueen entertained in compliment to her guest, Miss Kathleen Hutchinson, of Pensacola. The game of euchre was played at three tables, and two pretty prizes were awarded. Miss Helen Scott won a pretty piece of neck wear, and Mr. McKensie won a handsome match safe.

The guests were: Miss Helen Scott, Miss Nell McKinnon, of Selma, Miss Rosa Land, of Selma, Miss Lucille Wilkinson, Miss Edna May Wagner, Mr. Stuart McKenzie, Mr. Edward Lyle, Dr. Tracy Lay, Mr. Harry Shorter, Mr. Aristides Catervis and Mr. Teacher, of Eufaula.—Montgomery Advertiser.

MRS. WILLIAM S. KEYSER'S CHAFING DISH PARTY.

Mrs. William S. Keyser entertained a jolly party of friends very delightfully Thursday night with a chafing dish supper. The charming hostess was ably seconded as usual in dispensing the informal and genial hospitality that primarily makes a chafing dish function enjoyable, by Mr. Keyser.

Their vivacious and accomplished kinswoman, Mrs. Emily C. Smith, and her daughters, Miss Katie and Miss Bertie Smith, gracefully assisted the host and hostess.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Semmes, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Cary, Mrs. McWay, Jr., Miss Avery, Miss Katharine Avery, the Misses Sharpe, Miss Saffie Wright, Miss Florence Turtle, Miss Lizzie McLaughery, Miss Marion Hyer, Miss Cora Mallory, Miss Marion

Suter, and Mrs. C. W. Lamar's attractive niece and guests, the Misses Lewis, of Valdosta, Ga.

Also Mr. Buckner Chipley, Mr. Robert Denham, Mr. Knowles Hyer, Mr. J. Clark Porter, Mr. Mansfield Moreno, Mr. Sam Pasco, Mr. Will Runyan, Mr. A. M. Avery, Jr., and Mr. A. A. Brooks.

LADIES CLUB EUCHE.

The Progress Club held its regular Wednesday night euchre and dance, with the delightful refreshments that characterize the Club's entertainments. Mrs. Sidonia Kahn carried off the honors of the game for which she received a cut glass bowl. Mrs. Morris Bear won the second, also a cut glass dish.

ARCHDEACON WEBBER'S CLOSING SERVICES.

Archdeacon Webber, the eloquent spiritual leader who has moved the congregation of Christ church and all who have attended during the week, closes his mission with the services this evening, to the sincere regret of those who have attended and the loss of those who have not.

A special praise service including four beautiful anthems has been arranged in addition to the usual services. They are "Praise ye the Lord," "Amen, Shine," and "There is a green hill far away," as solo and quartette. Also, "Praise the Lord, O, Jerusalem."

GUMBO LUNCHEON FOR MISS LEWIS.

Mrs. Charles H. Dishman and Mrs. C. H. Skinner gave a gumbo luncheon at the Country Club Saturday afternoon complimentary to the Misses Lewis, nieces and guests of Mrs. C. W. Lamar, who are being showered with the most charming social attentions.

The luncheon was delightfully informal and the party lingered over the delicious courses, not reaching the city until after dark.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Dishman, Mr. and Mrs. Skinner, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Lamar, Miss Pearl and Miss Cora Lewis, Miss Edna Avery, Miss Stella and Miss Katharine Avery, Mr. and Mrs. J. Campbell Avery, Jr., Mr. J. Clark Porter, Mr. A. A. Brooks, Mr. Bushnell, Miss Sue Dishman, Mr. Albert Avery and the Misses Skinner.

RETURNED TO RECUPERATE.

Dr. C. C. Herman, who practiced dentistry here several years ago and who is widely and favorably known in Pensacola, returned yesterday morning to make this city his future home, and is at present the guest of his sister, Mrs. Chas. H. Bliss, of the Little Bayou.

The many friends of the doctor will be sorry to learn that he is completely broken down in health, the climate of Dallas, Texas, being more severe than his constitution could stand. He is accompanied by his little son, Cecil. Mrs. Herman and the remainder of the family are still in Dallas, but will join the doctor here next week.

SECTION B OF GRADE 8, ENTERTAINS AT JAP TEA.

Section B of Grade 8, Miss Morley teacher, Public School No. 1, entertained all of the students of the eighth grade and the principal and his staff of twelve teachers, with a Japanese tea Friday after school, that was a very lovely affair.

Miss Morley's class room was darkened and lighted by innumerable Japanese lanterns and elaborately decorated with big Japanese chrysanthemums, fans and umbrellas, until it really seemed a bit of the "Flowery Kingdom," an illusion further carried out by a group of pretty Jap maidens in costume. They were Miss Hilma Green, Miss Fannie Gingles, Miss Katie Caro, Miss Eva Zerr, Miss Sara Goldstucker, Miss Clyde McKinnon, Miss Jeanette McLellan, Miss Nellie Rowland, Miss Hazel Maneely, Miss Edna Rosasco, Miss Vera Fulghum, and Miss Katie Reed. And they served tea with the tiny wafers, in real Japanese cups on Japanese trays with Japanese dollies and napkins, with a genuine oriental hospitality that was very attractive.

Among other unique features was a dainty Japanese dialogue, "The Japanese Tea," written by Miss Katie Caro, a thirteen-year-old pupil, who enacted one of the characters and Miss Cora Goldstucker the other, in a charming manner.

Both, the little play and its delineators were the recipients of many compliments from the guests, teachers and pupils, and the little actresses exhibited talent that promises to develop into definite honor by the time she graduates.

The whole affair was most creditable to the young hostesses and to their teacher, Miss Morley. It not only strengthened the social bonds of the school, but it gives the pupils the social experience that tends to ease and grace of manner, at home and abroad. Moreover, it was a source of genuine delight to the girls themselves, that will not soon be forgotten.

A CONGENIAL HOUSE PARTY OF REUNITED RELATIVES.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Nobles has been the scene of a most delightful house party during the past week.

The special honorees of the occasion were Mr. J. J. Roberts and wife of Texas, whose arrival after thirty-five years absence, was mentioned in The Journal.

Other guests were Rev. E. W. Roberts of Cypress, Fla., Mrs. J. W. Carter of Repton, Ala., Mrs. S. P. Hendrix and Mrs. W. L. Nobles of Escambia, Fla., and Mrs. P. A. Hendrix of this city—all the remaining members of this well known family.

Every day was filled to overflowing with music, laughter and reminiscences of youthful days, together with the varying experiences which have come into the lives of these brothers and Debose, of the Navy Yard, won first prize for gentlemen, which was a beautiful shaving set, and Mrs. Stephens of Fort Barrancas won first prize for ladies, a beautiful silver and cut glass vase.

Miss Perry, of Fort Barrancas, entertained the young people of the post at a valentine party on Tuesday evening. The rooms were decorated with festoons of red and gold hearts and cupid. "Hearts" was played during the first part of the evening, and then each man wrote what he considered a model proposal to the young lady whose name he drew, and she in turn wrote an acceptance. This created a great deal of amusement, especially when read aloud. The dining room was very attractive in pink, with pink shaded candles and little hearts scattered over the table. The sandwiches were cut heart shaped as were the pink cakes. The other refreshments also carried out the sentiment of the day. Miss Perry's guests were Miss Canfield, from New York, Miss Belle Whiting, of Pensacola, Miss Hubbell and Miss Myers, of the post and Captain Hase, Dr. Ford and Lieutenants Hardin, Watson and Myers.
